Logistics & Supply Chain Accelerator

HAUS61 stands for Kaiserstraße 61 in the former part of the red-light district of Frankfurt, also known as Mainhattan.

The bustling Bahnhofsviertel, named after Frankfurt's main train station, is an up and coming neighborhood full of informal international restaurants - especially on Kaiserstraße and Münchener Straße. Known as the Red Light District, the area is packed with hotels, bars and cool clubs open late into the night.

HAUS61 provides for logistics & supply chain startups from all over the world:

- spots to establish a base in Frankfurt, Germany
- supports them to dive into the local logistics ecosystem
- matches them with the partners of HAUS61

Partners of HAUS61:

- can choose which of the startups can join HAUS61
- have full access to connect to each startup of HAUS61
- can realize projects with the startups
- bring innovation into their companies
